

Beam2Present – Product Description

What is Beam2Present?

With Beam2Present you can show your computer screen to anyone online in real-time. Everything you see, your guests can also see – in true colour quality.

Where to use Beam2Present?

Sales

Show your computer screen to customers and prospects. You can show any presentation, any document, and any application.

Consulting

Advise clients over the Internet. Save time and travel costs and enhance the quality of tele-consulting significantly.

Why is Beam2Present different?

Participants use state-of-the-art HTML technology

Participants only need a standard Internet browser and an Internet connection. Beam2Present does NOT require any installation, download, connection program, ActiveX, Java, Flash and the participant will not see any security warning.

Show what you want

You can show any document, any presentation, any application. Beam2Present transmits your entire screen content. With other online presentation tools you can only show PowerPoint slides - and in many cases even without animation. With Beam2Present you can show anything you want - in real-time.

Cost-effective flat-fee pricing

With Beam2Present you're in control. No per minute fees! You pay a low monthly flat fee and you can host as many session as you want.
